Proof of Good Employee Relations

With a non-union majority assured in the Dorsey Trailers plant election last week, the outcome is proof of good relations between management and employees.

The narrow margin is not indicative in itself of actual relations between management and employees because the professional organizers sent here by union headquarters could fight "no holds barred" while the company was restricted by federal laws in what it could do or say.

Now that the election is over, it is possible to make some calm observations:

(1) Organized labor has come of age. A union election in any individual plant must be judged on its merits the same as an election to choose public office-holders.

(2) For employees to choose a union does not mean that they have everything to gain and nothing to lose. They must choose the advantages against the disadvantages.

(3) Regardless of whatever dissatisfaction employees may have with company policies, employees in many a plant have found, after it was too late, their dissatisfactions with a union business agent or boss far greater than their dissatisfactions with a plant foreman or company policy before they chose a union.

(4) While a union is supposed to be governed by its members, it is a well known fact that many a union is nothing but a dictatorship with the business agent its dictator. "If you stand up in a meeting to oppose the business agent the chairman tells you to sit down. If you don't sit down someone knocks you down," is a complaint well known to one who has been a long-time union member.

(5) Employees at Dorsey Trailers already have gained without a union, most of the advantages some of the biggest unions in the country have tried to get for years.

(6) Then how were union organizers able to win as many votes as they did at Dorsey Trailers? The answer is simple. Anyone who has ever studied a political campaign knows that many a candidate for public office has gained his votes solely because of his promises. So the union organizers at Dorsey Trailers gained votes simply by promising more, and still more.

Now that the election is over, Dorsey employees will have time to look at events of the past several weeks with calm reasoning. In the months ahead they will compare their advantages with the advantages of employees in other industries.

Deep in the human heart is the desire for greater and wider vision. It prompted early man to climb the trees and to scale the peaks. Every year it lures thousands to the top of the Empire State Building. It inspired the telescope and microscope, and eventually radar.

Similar to this yearning for vision, yet sacred in its powerful prompting, has been man's spiritual quest. Although there is much natural evidence around us to prove there is a God, we want to understand His mind, His power and will... His heart!

No human inventions are needed here. In the Church established by Jesus Christ, in the Truth taught by Jesus Christ, in the Life inspired by Jesus Christ — each of us finds that wider vision his soul craves.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in each for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a stronghold of spiritual values. Without strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four main reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Please go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

WHAT DO PRESCRIPTIONS CONTAIN?

Sometimes you get a large bottle of pills, or perhaps a few tiny tablets or capsules. But each one also contains several priceless ingredients.

A prescription represents the accumulated knowledge of a physician acquired after many years of study. To compound it properly, a pharmacist had to attend a College of Pharmacy for a long time. The drugs in it took much research to perfect and extensive clinical testing to insure safe use. Yet, the average prescription costs only about $3. Truly, an amazingly low price for better health.

Deadline for store license and professional license will be Oct. 31. Deadline for motor vehicle license, as in prior years, will be Nov. 15. The deadline for boat tags will be the same as for auto tags.

Tigers Open First Home Game Against Opp Here Friday

The Elba Tigers open their home season in Tiger Stadium tomorrow at 8 p.m. before an expected sellout crowd with high hopes of winning their first game in six years from archrival Opp. The Tigers lost a hard fought game to Lurverne last Friday, 23 to 6.

Opp brings to town their poorest team in many years, as they lost around 30 boys by graduation. The Bobcats lost their first two games to Troy and Florida.

Elba, on the other hand, has shown marked improvement over last year in their two games this season. Even losing to Lurverne, they looked like a team that could go a long way toward a good season this year.

Lurverne took advantage of two early breaks to beat the Tigers, but had a hard battle on their hands all the way. Elba took the kickoff, and after two first downs, fumbled on the 35-yard line. Lurverne drove a touchdown with a pass to Kendrick, the winners' workhorse fullback, going over for the tally.

On the ensuing kick off, Johnny Lockard was hit hard and tumbled and Lurverne recovered the ball on Elba's 13. It took only four plays for them to move to their second TD and make it 13-0.

Even with this back-breaking misfortune, the boys refused to give up and kept fans happy all night with some time work both offensively and defensively. In the fourth quarter they pushed across a touchdown on a five-play, 70-yard drive with a 20-yard pass from Sanders to Hudson scoring, only to see Lurverne's free quarterback, Pat Lisenby, break away for 55 yards around the left end to put the game on ice.
